

Material Economic Manuscripts from 1840 - 1879
By Karl Marx

Introduction
By Freidrich Engels

I claim that Marx is humorous on this matter that a Brumiare of Bonaparte expresses the ontological crisis and living crisis of leftists in hospitals because they cannot practice economics and trade union compositions which then reflect the people into the economy.

I. How the Economy Influences the Far Right Caeserism of Bonaparte

In fact economic materialism develops the ontological dimension of the economy - its living influence and living facts and lived experiences of oppression and mounting oppression which then is crisis ridden because of the forms of appearance of the essence in economic crisis.

Imagine the economic ontology to be crisis dynamics which then express themselves everywhere as in fact petit-bourgeois developments of the religious Catholics, Protestants and Hindus, which then is simply the economic contrast from successful monopoly capitalism to in fact failed small capital and vying with it commercial middle-sized capital which can mediate the monopolist as his plans somehow.

II. Quantitative Analysis of Economic Ontology

In fact a accounts book would reveal a lot of crisis and bad debts, even debt politics, and policies which account for corruption and corrupt being and essence which reflects as the pure world of capital becoming the use-value of people as political dynamics of the essential cross-section being so important.
